Secretary of Treasury Advocates Increase of Internal Taxation in Preference to Issuance of Bonds.

PLANS FOR START OF DEFENSE PROGRAM

Statement Declares the Amount Needed Can Be Raised Without Appreciably Burdening People.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The formal statement of McAdoo, giving an estimate of the federal government's revenues and expenditures to the end of the fiscal year next July, advocates increases in internal taxation rather than the issuance of bonds to meet the first year's expenses of the Administration's defense program.

Assuming that Congress will continue in effect the present emergency law and customs duties as sugar, McAdoo estimates $112,506,294 additional in revenue is needed for expenditures in 1917, including $93,800,000 for national defense.

"This amount," the statement says, "can easily be raised by internal taxation without appreciable burdens upon the people." It suggests a reduction of the income tax law exemption for single persons from $5,000 to $2,000, and married persons from $4,500 to $3,000. It also advocates changes in tax income above certain figures, new taxes on gasoline, crude and refined oils, the horsepower of automobiles, other internal engines and various other things.

McAdoo stated that "there is no necessity for issuing bonds, notwithstanding the exigencies of the European war and its inevitable effect on revenue, I believe it to be far preferable to continue to pay the expenditure for the Panama Canal out of current revenues, especially since the canal is almost completed. It is likely that demands from that source will decrease in the near future. If the policy is adopted of providing sufficient revenues to cover Panama Canal payments as well as other demands on the treasury, it probably will be broad enough to provide for any railway fluctuations in revenues and expenditures of the government in the future. Therefore, if the bonds are not issued for canal payments, the total amount of new revenue required for the fiscal year of 1917, assuming that the present duty of sugar and emergency revenue taxes is continued, is $112,506,294."

CARING FOR WOUNDED AT DARDANELLES

Operating on a wounded British soldier on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

"After a bit my turn came at the dressing station," writes a British soldier wounded in the Dardanelles fighting. "It was cool and breezy, there compared with the trenches. They took off my boots and laid me out on a nice little table, with everything round me fixed up as neat as you could wish. Instruments all shining bright in the sun. Doctor with rubber gloves; assistant fixed up just the same. They tied me up all right, but how long they took over it I really couldn't tell."

Utah Murderer Is Buried in Chicago; No Creed or Religion at Service, Merely Speeches and Threats of Revenge.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Three thousand crowded the auditorium where Joseph Hillstrom's funeral was held. Thousands of others were unable to gain admittance. The Red Flag Boat, unmolested, a red banner was draped on the pine coffin. The participants sang songs that Hillstrom wrote. The deceased was referred to as Joe Hill. Hillstrom was a member of the Industrial Workers and was executed last week at Salt Lake.

On the banner above the coffin and on programs and songs was the inscription, "In memory of Joe Hill. We never forget. Murdered by the Utah authorities."

William Haywood, chairman of the meeting, made a speech as did also James Larkin, who led the last dock workers' strike in England. Attorney Hilton, who defended Hillstrom, delivered the funeral oration. No creed or religion was used.

Eight, said to be anarchists, carried the coffin out of the building. The procession, a mile long, marched to the elevated station. The trip to the cemetery was made in elevated cars. Few went.

WILSON WORKS ON ANNUAL ADDRESS

President Spends Thanksgiving Day at a Typewriter Finishing Address to Congress; Printer Gets It Today.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The president spent Thanksgiving at a typewriter working on his annual address. He typed until late tonight in order to have the document ready for the public printer tomorrow.

Abandoning his plans for the spending of the day with Mrs. Norman Galt, his fiancée, the president locked himself in a private study. He emerged long enough to take an automobile ride in the afternoon and eat dinner with his family. The president expected to finish his address early in the day.

A force of clerks at the White House waited to prepare it for the printer. In view of the probability that the contest over national defense, during the session of congress will be one of the most important in his administration the president devoted more than usual care and time in the preparation of the address.

HOT SPRINGS SWEEP BY TORNADO

Hurricane Ravages Southeastern Section of Hot Springs, Arkansas, Killing and Injuring Many Residents.

PROPERTY DAMAGE MAY REACH MILLION DOLLARS

Few Details Are Had on Account of Wires Being Down Outside of the Town; City Section Escaped Serious Damage.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 25.—Three are known to be dead and sixty-five injured as a result of a tornado that swept the southeastern section of Hot Springs, according to passengers on the Iron Mountain arriving here. It is believed the death toll will grow. Passengers said the business section of the town was uninjured.

Apparently the storm swept down on the edge of the city. It was felt in the uptown sections. For this reason the passengers learned few details before the train left. Wire communication to Hot Springs was severed. A Rock Island bridge near Hot Springs was washed out. The train, arriving here, was delayed by trees across the tracks.

The southern section of the city is said to have been the only portion of the town that suffered serious damage. The United States government reservation in the center of the city is said to have escaped damage.

The Petrograd dispatch adds: "Janopol, one of the points where the Germans reached and from whence they made attempts to cross and were captured by the Russians. The fighting lately in the northern theatre has been directed toward securing a better line for the Germans' winter fortifications. The Russians continue to press at various points to prevent the realization of this."

"The German line, as constituted, is far from satisfactory for anything but brief defensive operations."

LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The first day's subscriptions to the "great loan victory" as the new French loan has been characterized by the minister of finance, exceeded expectations. Lines began forming at 9 o'clock at banks, loan headquarters and the special loan windows of all postoffices. Women in workmen's blouses and young girls, bringing their savings, mingled with capitalists waiting to subscribe millions.

The subscribers at the postoffice crowded the corridors and made it almost impossible to buy postage stamps. At the Credit Lyonnais and other banks, windows for receipt of applications had doubled. The first subscription was for $100,000. The greatest amount subscribed by an individual was for a million. The formalities connected with it were completed in six minutes which constitutes a speed record for a French official transaction.

REPORT ALLIED SAFETY

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The safety of British and French naval brigades which recently were in Belgrade, is now assured. The French section has arrived at Moudita. The British brigade is at Mitrovitz. They went to Belgrade last fall to participate in the fighting against the Germans and Austrians preceding the evacuation of the capital of the Serbians. While nothing is known officially of their movements since they left Belgrade, or whether they participated in engagements against the Teutons, it seems probable that the British were in the region of Mitrovitz fighting with the Serbians, who evacuated Mitrovitz a day or two ago.

CARLOS RANDALL MOVES ACROSS THE BORDER

Acting Villa Governor of Sonora Departs From Office and Is Now in Arizona Under Order of U. S. Officers.

NOGALES, Nov. 25.—The acting Villa governor, Randall, was allowed to cross the boundary on condition that he would hold himself subject to the orders of United States army officers. It is reported that General Acosta, the Villa commander is contemplating a similar move. Randall declined the offer of a guard at the hotel where he registered.

Before permitting Randall to cross into the United States the military authorities obtained an order from him releasing three Americans who are charged with the violation of the neutrality laws of the United States. The Americans are alleged to have escorted negro troops into Mexico several days ago. The trio was brought to the United States and made prisoners at the army barracks.

The United States troops patrol and guard was doubled. A troop train is reported to have come from the front with wounded under General Rodriguez. It is understood the necessary orders were issued sanctioning the removal of about two hundred wounded from Nogales, Sonora, to Nogales pending the arrival of Obregon's forces. It is rumored the Villa forces are considering the evacuation of Nogales, Sonora. This is unconfirmed.

SCENE SHIFTS

DOUGLAS, Nov. 25.—The military activity in northern Sonora is shifting from Chihuahua to Nogales. General Obregon's troops, after the empty victory at Chihuahua and the fruitless pursuit of the elusive Villa army, was marching upon Nogales where Villa's northern army is expected to concentrate.

While the main Carranza forces are quartered at Santa Cruz, they are beginning to go forward. Their progress is not expected to be rapid. General Calles reported that the destruction of the railroad and highway bridges, between Zorillo and Martinez blocked the advance. The obstruction in the line of march was accomplished by Villa troops under General Acosta.

REPORT ALLIED SAFETY

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The safety of British and French naval brigades which recently were in Belgrade, is now assured. The French section has arrived at Moudita. The British brigade is at Mitrovitz. They went to Belgrade last fall to participate in the fighting against the Germans and Austrians preceding the evacuation of the capital of the Serbians. While nothing is known officially of their movements since they left Belgrade, or whether they participated in engagements against the Teutons, it seems probable that the British were in the region of Mitrovitz fighting with the Serbians, who evacuated Mitrovitz a day or two ago.

GREECE NOW AGREES TO ALLIED TERMS

Will Not Attempt to Interfere With Allied Troops in Eventuality of Their Being Forced Across Greek Frontier.

GREECE GRAIN SHIPS ALLOWED TO PROCEED

Believed Allies Promised Greece Indemnity for Damages From Troops' Occupation; Roumania Now Center of Interest.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Cordial relations between Greece and the Entente have been established with Greece's assurance that no attempt will be made to interfere with the allied troops should they be forced to cross the Greek frontier, and that railroad and other facilities will be afforded. The fact that the Teuton and Bulgarian have gained command of the Kosovo plateau has caused the Serbian government to move to Scutari. The Serbians are defending the fringe of Serbia between the Sava river and the Albanian and Montenegrin frontiers. The army will be provisioned from Scutari from which place the Montenegrins built good roads during their occupation. Heavy cannonading was going on in the south-west. Rain has stopped any big movements on the eastern front.

That Greece's assurances and guarantees are satisfactory to the allies is shown by the fact that Greek grain ships held at Malta were allowed to proceed to their destinations, refusing what would have been a serious shortage of bread supplies if their detention had been prolonged. It is understood the allies promised Greece monetary indemnity after the war for any damage which might result through occupation of Greek territory. The British public press now has centered interest upon the attitude of Roumania and intervention of Russia.

It is well established that Russia has concentrated a great army near the Rumanian frontier. Dispatches state that a large number of guns have arrived at Odessa from Japan for its use. The direction in which this army moves will be dictated by the policy of Roumania. Berlin shows uneasiness but, beyond the statement of the Rumanian Premier Bratianu that negotiations between Russia and Roumania were never better, there is no information. Monstrous still is in possession of the Serbians. The Bulgarians are pushing toward it while the army of General Von Gallwitz is reported to be en route down the Vardar valley to help the Bulgarians attack the Ancho-French. The Italians are persisting in their offensive and are daily getting nearer Gorizia, across the Isonzo.
